

2017 WORKSHOPS Clinical Trials Essentials MELBOURNE

CLICK >> LEARN MORE & ENROL

ESSENTIAL

PRIVACY IN RESEARCH:

Knowledge for the Australian Research sector

Monday 27 March 2017
9.30am - 1.30pm

CSIRO - Parkville
343 Royal Parade

Presented by
SalingerPrivacy

Ethical research requires consideration of "privacy and confidentiality" in research design. But what does this mean? Where does 'consent' fit in? When can privacy considerations be overridden? This highly regarded workshop is specially designed to explain Federal and local jurisdictional privacy law, and its application to research.

This workshop is applicable to anyone involved in research design, conduct, ethical review and governance.

Cost $350 pp plus GST

NEW

RESEARCH INTEGRITY AND CLINICAL TRIALS:

Towards a cultural change in Research practice

Wednesday 3 May 2017
9.30am - 4.30pm

CSIRO - Parkville
343 Royal Parade

Presented by
Dr Karolyn White, Macquarie Uni and Dr Jane Jacobs, QUT

This workshop provides hospital and health services and other research active organisations, with an overview of best research practice and the essentials for investigating and managing potential breaches of the Australian Code for the Responsible Conduct of Research.

This workshop is applicable to anyone involved in research design, conduct, ethical review, integrity and governance.

Cost $500 pp plus GST

NEW

ICH E6 ADDENDUM: Practical tools for site compliance

Friday 19 May 2017
9am - 3pm

CSIRO - Parkville
343 Royal Parade

Presented by
Dr Sophie Mepham

This workshop will give a comprehensive overview of each of the recent ICH GCP changes and the impact this may have on clinical trial conduct. Each change will be reviewed and discussed using interactive group activities and tools. Attendees will have a toolkit of practical solutions to leave the session with.

Applicable to all who work in Clinical Trials including Study Coordinators, Research Managers, Researchers, Governance and Integrity staff, Sponsors and CRAs/CROs.

Cost $450 pp plus GST

NEW

SOCIAL MEDIA IN RESEARCH:

Leveraging benefits and navigating the challenges

Thursday 8 June 2017
10am - 4pm

Venue Information coming soon!

Presented by Michelle Gallaher

Does social media have a place in clinical research? YES! When used smartly, social media can improve efficiency, but how can you achieve the benefits while minimising the risks? Let us help you discover skills and tools for assessing your impact and protecting your research.

Applicable to all who work in Clinical Trials including Study Coordinators, Research Managers, Researchers, Governance and Integrity staff, Sponsors and CRAs/CROs.

Cost $450 pp plus GST

SalingerPrivacy

MACQUARIE
University

QUT

Sophie Mepham GCP™

the social science.

INTERESTED?

How to >> ENROL NOW >> find out more information >> contact us today

Contact PRAXIS Australia | Course Manager

Call 08 8122 4576 email info@praxisaustralia.com.au or go to www.praxisaustralia.com.au